SPRING MEETING DETAILS: The meeting will be held in Greenville and will be hosted by Ed and Ginger Alexander. Birding should be good in the Delta in late April....let's try for a good turnout!

April 27: Informal reception at the Alexander's at 7:00 P.M., at 930 S. Washington in Greenville.

April 28: An all day Saturday birding trip. Meet at 7:00 A.M. in the parking lot of the Episcopal Church, located where South Washington converges with South Main (across the street from the cemetery). We will lunch at Percy Park. Bring your own lunch or buy hamburgers and such at the snack bar. We'll have a noontime tally and bird until late afternoon.

Dinner will be on your own.

At 7:30 P.M. we will meet at the auditorium of the Mississippi Power and Light Company, which is downtown on South Main (across from the old Greenville Hotel). There will be a business meeting preceeding program, which will feature wildlife photographer Dan Guravich who will take us on an adventure in the arctic.

A final compilation of birds seen on Saturday will follow.

April 29: Birding on your own!

PS: Try to let Ed and Ginger know if you plan to be present for the gathering on Friday night. Address above. See you there!
